My mother used them off and on for a number of years. She is over eighty years old, and, of course, does not expect to be cured, but she is more than glad to know of a medicine which brings such prompt relief as Doan's Kidney Pills. She always keeps them in the house, and never fails to recommend them to her friends when an opportunity presents itself."

JAPAN INSISTS SHE'S A FRIEND

Aoki's Recall Not Significant of Change

SO TOKIO DECLARES.

Takahira's Return Is Likely—Former Minister at Washington Will Succeed Viscount as Ambassador, It Is Expected.

Tokio, Dec. 5.—The recall of Viscount Aoki, Japanese ambassador at Washington, is the result of his own expression of a desire to resign, but no official announcement is expected until after his arrival in Tokio. It is regarded as a foregone conclusion here that Ambassador Aoki will not return to Washington.

The question of his probable successor, should his resignation be accepted, has been long under discussion. The names mentioned in this connection include Baron Kaneko, formerly special envoy to the United States; Baron Chinda, vice-minister of the foreign office, and Kogoro Takahira, at present Japanese ambassador to Italy, formerly minister of Japan at Washington, and one of the Japanese envoys at the Russo-Japanese conference at Portsmouth.

It is understood that M. Takahira is first choice. Neither Baron Chinda nor Baron Kaneko can be spared, so M. Takahira will undoubtedly be appointed if he is acceptable at Washington.

It may be said of the authority of a high official in the foreign office that the recall of Viscount Aoki is not intended as a reflection upon his course, since a change at Washington has long been imminent. Neither should the present action be construed as denoting the slightest change in the friendly attitude of the Japanese government toward the United States on the immigration question.

In the course of an interview yesterday this official said:

"It is quite possible that Viscount Aoki may not return to Washington. In the event of his resignation, the government of Japan will only appoint to the position a person well known in America, whom the president knows and likes, and who has the confidence of the American people."

The Catholics released him by force and afterward drove a pig into the Mohammedan mosque. This infuriated the Mohammedans, who assembled and attacked the Catholics. A prolonged fight ensued, in which both sides lost heavily.
